THOMAS CAMPBELL STEM DIES SUDDENLY

Thomas Campbell Stem passed away suddenly Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at his home, 524 South Louise street.

Mr. Stem had been ill for several years, and had been confined to his bed for some time. Just recently he has been able to be up, and on Thursday he decided to take a walk, and he walked to the busines section of Glendale and back, and it was almost immediately after his return from his walk that he suddenly expired. At the time he was alone with his step-daughter, Mrs. R. P. Jodon, with whom he and Mrs. Stem had made their home. His wife was in South Pasadena visiting his only daughter, Mrs. C. J, Pearson. Others who mourn his loss are E. L. Dayhoff and Dr. Minnie Reel, of Santa Maria, his step-children.

Mr. Stem was a veteran of the Civil War, and was for a time commander of the post at Santa Maria. He was a resident of Tropico for some time, making his residence on West Cypress street next to the house which used to be the Tropico Library.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday ofternoon at the Christian Church, Rev. Clifford A. Cole officiating.

LANDLORD HITS TENANT WITH ROCK BECAUSE TENANT ORDERS HIM OFF PREMISES

Mr. E. F. Oberdick was found guilty of assault upon the person of R. J. McUmber, of 240 Boynton street, in Judge Rowe's court on Monday morning. Oberdick was the defendant and McUmber was the plaintiff.

Mr. Oberdick was instructed to appear before Judge Lowe on Thursday morning, at which time he was fined $40.

The case came out of a series of small quarrels which the two men had engaged in for several weeks past. Mr. McUmber is the tenant of Mr. Oberdick, who, according to the testimony, has been trying to oust his tenant from the house. Following a previous dispute, McUmber had ordered Oberdick off the premises, which he said he intended to vacate the first of June, which time he had paid his rent to. When Mr. McUmber came home on Thursday, the 16th, he found his landlord on the lawn, driving stakes into it. He again ordered him off, but Oberdick did not go, and this resulted in a quarrel which became so heated that the men started to fight. Before the fight ended McUmber's head was cut open by a rock thrown by Oberdick, and he suffered a few other minor injuries.

They were separated by neighbors who had been attracted to the scene, and Oberdick was arrested.

MARK JOHNSON STRUCK BY TRAIN—ALMOST INSTANTLY KILLED

Mark Johnson, of 226 West Cypress street, was struck Tuesday by a Southern Pacific train while crossing the tracks in a truck on a railroad crossing at Savannah, near El Monte, California He died at four o'clock of the same day, death resulting from a fracture of the skull

Mr Johnson is one of the Johnson Brothers, who have been engaged in the wholesale produce business in Tropico for several years, and it was while he was bringing a truck load of potatoes to Tropico that the accident happened He was crossing the railroad tracks at Savannah when a Southern Pacific train struck his truck and he was thrown several yards to the side of the track, sustaining injuries which resulted in his death a short time later. The truck was completely demolished.

Mark Johnson was born in Indiana, on December 18th, 1878, and was thirty-nine years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson, of 226 W. Cypress street, and he made his home with his parents. He came to California eleven years ago, and during the past eight years he and his brother have been engaged in a thriving wholesale produce business in Tropico. He is mourned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson, a brother, Herbert Earl Johnson, and a sister, also by a large number of friends.

THOSE S. O. S. LETTERS

During the past week residents of this community have been the recipients of a letter self-styled "S. O. S." sent out by the Glendale Red Cross. We think that the letter was written in a patriotic spirit and that there was nothing but good will behind it, and if we are correct in our assumptions, we wish to say that the letter did not perform the mission it was intended for, judging from the attitude taken by a large number of our people whe received them According to them, the letters were, to say the least, insulting and abusive, and several of them have asked the question, "What has the Glendale Red Cross got to do with this district, anyway?"

It seems to us that this is where the trouble is mostly. The Glendale Red Cross has nothing to do with this district, and have been informed so on previous occasions Errors will happen, but there is no legitimate excuse for the Glendale Red Cross sending out letters to people in the Tropico district. If only a few people had received the letters it could have been an error, but there were a large number of Tropico people received them, and there is no doubt but what it was intended they should receive them.

Among those who received the letters were some of the hardest workers for the cause. A person who received one states that there are five in his family, all at home, who are members of the Red Cross, and he has a daughter who has the distinction of being one of the best young lady knitters in this community; others who have been working hard during the past month to make the big Red Cross Carnival a success received one of these letters, and it surely must have been gratifying to them to know that their efforts were being appreciated by the Glendale Red Cross; Mr. Charles H. Cushing, the Treasurer of the Tropico Red Cross, received one of the letters, and he must have smiled with satisfaction when he was informed that his "card" showed that he was a pro-German and a slacker, and would he please send them two dollars.

So far the Tropico Herald has not heard of a single case where the recipient of one of these letters was not a Red Cross member, some of them were good, hard-working members, and we have heard from a large number of them.

We believe that the Glendale Red Cross needs those two dollars they asked for, but we also believe they need something else, and that is, some kind of a system by which they can attend to their own business. From our observations we believe that the Tropico Red Cross can look after its own interests. Anyway, she is trying to do it, and in doing so she is not devoting any of her valuable time to stirring up discontent in other districts.

Don't be slave to habit. If you are, you are tied hand and foot to a worse tyrant than the kaiser. Take a moment for retrospection and see if you are thoughtlessly doing things over and over again just because you are in the habit of doing them.

Take eating wheat, for instance. It is habit, nothing more or less, that keeps some of us from going without wheat. We have become accustomed to regard this cereal as a more or less indispensable article of diet.

But it isn't.

Wheat is a luxury—absolutely nothing else. Dietitians who have studied the matter thoroughly tell us over and over again that wheat possesses no nutritional qualities for man or beast superior to those of oats, corn, rice. It has neither more nor better protein. It has neither more nor better fat. It has no better mineral salts or mineral salts in larger amounts. Neither has it more or better fuel value.

"Wheat is just one of the cereals," declares a famous food expert, "and there isn't the slightest evidence that it is the best one, because so far as comparative tests are concerned in animals, it isn't the best one."

Why, then, do we still cling to wheat, even when we know that every pound of it is needed abroad to help us win a victory in this war?

It is a habit. We are accustomed to having wheat bread. We are accustomed to using wheat flour freely in cooking. We have somehow grown to believe that wheat is one of the necessities of life, or at least an indispensable mark of breeding and refinement.

A few years ago, many a housewife probably would have apologized if unexpected guests at dinner had found one of the darker, coarser breads on her table instead of wheat bread. Today, however, she must blush for shame if guests do not always find wheatless bread or potatoes or rice used in place of any bread on her table. Otherwise, they will brand her as a slave to habit—the wheat habit.

While American manhood is fighting and dying so that the people of America may remain free and independent, she admittedly isn't strong enough to shake herself free and independent from a mere habit of cooking and eating.

Shall any American woman let this be said of her?

"IT IS THE WAR"

In France fifty per cent of the total energy of the people is said to go into military effort. Hardships, hunger, sorrow—all suffering is excused with the explanation, "It is the war." This is the kind of spirit needed in every American home.

REGISTRATION ORDER

LOCAL BOARD NOTIFIED TO CONDUCT REGISTRATION JUNE 5

Chairman Lanterman of the local Exemption Board reports as follows:

"An order has come for registrations to be conducted under the auspices of the local Board and registrations will be conducted by this Board in Glendale, in San Fernando and in Lankershim until we receive orders to the contrary.

"Professor Frazier of the San Fernando High School will be in charge there, and Professor Urey of the Lankershim High School in charge there, registrations being made in Glendale as before.

"The district will be divided so that the boys living in La Canada, La Crescenta, Verdugo, Eagle Rock, Glendale, Tropico and Burbank will be registered in Glendale. Those living in Lankershim, Universal City, Calabasas and intervening territory will register at Lankershim, while those living in San Fernando, Tujunga, Sunland, Chatsworth Park, Saugus and intervening territory will register in San Fernando.

"The definite boundaries of the districts will be fixed and published in the papers, but it is up to the registrants themselves to find their proper place of registration and to register. The penalties for failure to comply with the Act are quite severe, and complete registration is desirable.

"The registration will take place June 5th and is for every man that reached the age of twentyone between June 5th last year and the date of registration this year."

DEATH OF COLBERT EYRAUD

Little Colbert Eyraud, who distinguished himself by carrying off the first prize for miniature floats with a floral battleship last Saturday at the Red Cross Carnival, is dead. He passed away about eleven o'clock Tuesday morning at Thornycroft Hospital, where he was taken almost immediately after the prize was given him. Lockjaw was the cause of death, occasioned by an injury he received about two weeks ago from a rusty garden tool, which had healed and about which no anxiety was felt until he became acutely ill Saturday.

He was the son of Mrs. Irma Eyraud, a widow residing at 3047 Ross Court, and was the youngest of five children. He has been attending the Cerritos avenue school and had an excellent record there, and many friends among his classmates. Funeral services, conducted by Father O'Neill, were held at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park Thursday afternoon at three o'clock, and were in charge of Scovern Letton & Frey.

Among the floral offerings was a large Red Cross made from red carnations, and attached thereto was a card bearing the following lines:

"In the name of the American Red Cross, for which his last earthly labors were performed, we dedicate this emblem to the memory of Colbert Eyraud."

The card was signed by Mrs. J. V. Griffin and Mrs Louise Purnell, who made the Red Cross

✚ RED CROSS NOTES ✚

THE RED CROSS CARNIVAL ..

The Red Cross carnival given last Saturday afternoon and evening at the Tropico Playgrounds was the most successful carnival ever given in this city. It was a big success both financially and socially. The carnival was officially opened with the saluting of the "Stars and Stripes" and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the children of the Cerritos avenue school, and from that time on there was not a dull moment for any one. The playgrounds were beautifully decorated with flags, and the booths were very artistically fixed up with flowers of every hue, and over each one were large colored parasols which served as a canopy for the booth.

The largest crowd ever assembled on the Playgrounds was present on this day, and the crowd did not break up till twelve o'clock. It was a merry crowd, too, and everybody seemed to be having the grandest time

The supper, which was served at 5:30 o'clock, was very delicious, and there was a large number of people who took advantage of having their supper on the grounds instead of going home and coming back again. It is estimated that over four hundred people were served with supper, and practically all of this number came early in the afternoon and stayed until the close of the carnival at night.

Financially the carnival was a big success, and it is estimated that after all expenses are paid there will be at least $500.00, this sum including the Junior Red Cross receipts A full report will be published in next week's Herald.

There is much credit to be given to a large number of men and women who worked hard for the success of this carnival, and it would be hard to pick out any special ones who did more than others. Probably the success of the carnival is due more to the way that they all worked together, everybody working in a harmonious way. There were no cliques, no one who just had so much to do and nothing else, but everybody did all they could and laid aside everything else for they were working for one great cause—the Red Cross.

NOTICE

It is very much regretted by the officers of the Tropico Branch of the Red Cross that certain letters were sent out to Tropico people asking subscriptions to the Red Cross.

These letters were composed and sent out by the Glendale chapter, entirely without the knowledge of any of the Tropico officers.

We feel perfect confidence in the loyalty of the Tropico people, and think that any such letter was entirely uncalled-for. We know that all are giving to the limit of their ability, and fully appreciate the help given by each one, whether in labor or money.

If there should be any slacker within our midst, the case will be most carefully and thoroughly investigated before taking any drastic action.

"Farmers are sometimes the last to heat up, but they stay hot; and in a long fight they are always found sturdily carrying the battle across No Man's Land to the foe, in the last grim struggle."—Herbert Quick.

So long as the boys are at the front, difficulties are to be subdued, impossibilities to be trampled down.

Food control in North America today means chiefly getting the food across the Atlantic at all costs.

GET THE RED CROSS HABIT

By
EDWARD HUNGERFORD
Of the Vigilantes.

The United States has now been at war for more than a year. But up to the present time the Red Cross has made but one national appeal for help—its $100,000,000 drive in the summer of 1917. Now it is about to make another appeal—its second. And upon the heels of the Third Liberty Loan. For, great as are the responsibilities and the opportunities of the institution whose blazing symbol is recognized by civilized nations the world over as a symbol of peace and of comfort, its expenditures are but a small fraction of those required for our governmental expense for the conduct of the war.

Organization of Service.

The Red Cross has never permitted itself to encroach upon the functions or the necessities of the government, although there are many times when it might justify itself in so doing. In the single important instance of transportation it has refused to burden the army or navy with the carriage of its vast supplies of stores, even though these were destined for the relief and the lives of the soldiers and the sailors themselves. On the contrary, after it had builded and fully equipped a great dispatching depot on the West Side of New York for the preparement of its stores for shipment overseas, and the war department found itself so pressed for warehouse facilities that it was compelled to take the Red Cross plant for army needs Davison and his fellows of the Red Cross gladly moved out and quickly assembled and builded another dispatching depot for their own needs. The spirit of the organization is that of service. And I have seen enough of its workings to convince me that it is something a little more than mere service—perhaps service plus efficiency would best describe it.

It seems to me that the time has come when there should be an even larger national appreciation of the Red Cross. Today it has only begun to touch the surface of the American people. Continued fighting and extended casualty lists will force it far beneath the skin. It cannot be embarrassed for lack of funds. You and I cannot afford to have it embarrassed, to be compelled to turn any of its energies from the saving of human life to mere grubbing for cold cash.

It is time that America formed a new habit. We have some big and fairly expensive national tastes already, movies and motoring, for instance, to say nothing of smoking and drinking. A little reduction on all of these and the proceeds turned to an entirely new habit would be a mighty good thing at this time. And for that fifth habit I am going to propose the Red Cross—the Red Cross habit, if you please. It will be a habit the gathered money of which will go to the credit, not of yourself, but of the greatest charity that America ever has known, which makes this new habit more than a habit—a real virtue—the virtue of self sacrifice.

Our Country the Richest.

Try being ready for the Red Cross collector—not merely the next time he comes, but on each subsequent call. Do not face him with the reproachful suggestion that he has seen you before. Our country is a big land, in many ways the biggest and richest in the world, but it is not big enough nor rich enough that folks with money can escape with but a single invitation to contribute.

That is why I suggest the Red Cross habit—the continuous setting aside of definite sums of money by patriotic Americans against the Red Cross drives. It is a habit which I cannot commend too heartily to you.

PALACE GRAND THEATRE

Tonight's bill at the Palace Grand presents to Glendale movie fans one of the greatest attractions of the year when Nazimova, who is also one of the greatest actresses on the speaking stage, appears in the great seven-reel sensation, "Revelation." The story is adapted from Mabel Wagnall's novel, "A Rosebush of a Thousand Years," Another good attraction is the wonder movie clown, "Toto," in a two-reel comedy, "Fare Please." Usual matinee, at 2:30, and evening show at 6:45 and 8:45.

Sunday there will be an entirely different offering, Mae Marsh appearing in a smashing melodramatic sensation, "The Face in the Dark," Irvin S. Cobb's greatest story. In addition to this there will be a great two-reel Mack Sennett comedy, with Chester Conklin in "His Smothered Love." There will be the usual matinee at 2:30, and two evening shows, at 6:45 and 8:45.

Two popular stars appear Monday, Ethel Clayton and Carlyle Blackwell, in Emmett Campbell Hall's famous story, "The Madness of Helen." In addition to this, Bruce's wonder outdoor scenes will form an instructive part of the program. There will be a matinee at 2:30, while the two evening shows will begin promptly at 7:15 and 8:45.

Sessue Hayakawa, the famous Japanese actor, heads the bill for Tuesday, in a thrilling drama of the west coast of Africa, "A White Man's Law." The remainder of the program is a christie comedy, "Red Crossed." Matinee at 2:30, evening

NAZIMOVA - Metro Star

SEND YOUR FIELD GLASSES, SPY-GLASSES OR TELESCOPES TO WASHINGTON TO BE 'EYES' FOR THE FLEET

The Navy needs these "eyes" to derive the submarine of its sting and it has requested the California State Council of Defense to help it obtain them. Commissioning hundreds of new ships for naval service has created a demand for observation glasses far in excess of the present American output. The only way to insure an adequate supply while the manufacturers of lenses are speeding up production is by appealing to the patriotism of private owners.

The Government pays a nominal fee of $1,00 for each glass accepted and the donor is further rewarded by knowing that his patriotic contribution may be the means of saving thousands of troops in transport and also of saving much-needed shipping from destruction.

Old, scuffed telescopes or field glasses may possess first class lenses, so don't be chary about forwarding them regardless of appearance.

Ship direct by mail or express to Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C. Tie a tag with your name and address to each instrument.
